Description

Created in 2000, the Council on Botanical and Horticultural Libraries Annual Literature Award is given by CBHL to both the author and publisher of a work that makes a significant contribution to the literature of botany or horticulture. The award is presented at CBHL's Annual Meeting.

Its purpose is to:

- Recognize a work that makes a significant contribution to the literature of botany or horticulture;
- Increase the visibility of CBHL;
- Encourage participation by the CBHL community in recognizing significant contributions to the literature of the field.

This page lists all the nominated and winning books from 2003 onward until 2012. The nominees lists for 2000-2002 are unavailable, as is the list for the current year's nominees.

The books are hyperlinked to the catalog records of Michigan State University Libraries.

Inside The New York Botanical Garden. Top Botanical, Horticultural Books Awarded. Posted in NYBG in the News, Science, Shop/Book Reviews on June 11 2009, by Plant Talk. The Council on Botanical and Horticultural Libraries (CBHL), of which NYBG is a founding member, recently presented its 10th Annual Literature Awards. The awards, created to recognize significant contributions to the literature of botany and horticulture, honored three exceptional books this year, all of which acknowledge input from The New York Botanical Garden and all of which can be found in the LuEsther T. Mertz Library. The council is the leading professional organization in the field of botanical and horticultural information services.
