A New Look at Institutional Food Service Management

Mickey Warner, Florida International University

Program Web Address
hospitality.fiu.edu

Abstract
Institutional food service management, especially by contract management companies, offers unrecognized career opportunities for many of today's hospitality students. It is one of the best kept secrets in the food service industry. This article endeavors to provide a new look at and overview of the industry as it has evolved and now stands.

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://digitalcommons.fiu.edu/hospitalityreview/vol10/iss1/4

The institutional food sector in Saudi Arabia offers services to schools, workers camps, company cafeterias, hospitals, universities, Hajj catering, military, prisons, airline catering, and special events. There is no official government data on the value of the institutional food service market in Saudi Arabia. In addition to meeting product standards and regulatory requirements, it is imperative that new-to-market food suppliers consider the following points when contemplating entry into the Saudi food service market:

- Look for Strong and Knowledgeable Importer: Exporter must look for and partner with knowledgeable and reliable importer who knows how the food service sector operates.

Cookies are used by this site. To decline or learn more, visit our cookies page.